

Gordon Mayhew

Curriculum Vitae

Here, I make a 45-year story, brief, short, and to the point! Yes, this is my life, and I am alive and in pretty good health at the time I began drinking the Kangen Water. Although I was having another bout with Kidney Stones at that time, I believe that for the first time, after having 4 Lithotripsies in the past, drinking the Water flushed them out!

Although I have never genuinely got into health, I always tried to eat healthy, although I got hooked on Mt. Dew, which helped create a lot of Kidney Stones.

I did a limited amount of college, and have always sought out a “better” way to make money, other than the typical “job” working for somebody else, where the boss makes the real money, not me. I always knew there was going to be a better way, even though I did attend some college.

I got married shortly before I joined the Navy, when I was age 28, but the marriage didn't last long, and I got out of the Navy after 4.5 years. I joined the Navy to get training for a good career. I chose electronics which I genuinely enjoy, even now. (I still love to run wires and build computers!) When I did get the jobs, the pay wasn't the greatest, then all the outsourcing occurred, and I was left being laid off time and time again. I was left with no other choice but to start over and went searching for something that I could make a living with, since I had some kids by now. I do have a few other things I do, but this is my main focus.

I have always been fascinated by chemistry and enjoy learning about how chemistry also applies to our body. Although I never really got deep into being what people would call a “health nut” I kept an eye out for something that I could “get excited about”.

With what I have learned about this Kangen Water, I believe this is truly an answer to my dreams of finding something that can truly make a difference in somebody's life by affecting their health in an extremely positive manner, and also affect my finances in a positive manner likewise, while running a home-based business so I could stay home and raise my kids properly.

Yes, I have found my niche. I am happy now. My physical health is getting better every day, and so is my financial health. This is truly what “LIFE” is meant to be like.